Thanks to Jon Wilson for nominating me and making me look really, really good!

THANKS AGAIN

NAHB exists to serve

Fighting for housing on major policy issues, providing excellent educational programming, and creating outstanding networking opportunities are just some of the ways that NAHB fulfills that mandate.

And the proof of its success is in the numbers.

NAHB members will save a total of about $5,707 per housing start in 2016 due to NAHB's advocacy efforts in 2015 and other select member benefits.

NAHB urges members to take full advantage of the many resources that it offers. They are designed to help you build a better home, build a better business and work in a policy environment that enables your business -- and those of your associates in the home building industry - - to thrive.

NAHB.org is your key to unlocking the outstanding value that NAHB provides.

KENTUCKY DESIGN & REMODELING AWARDS

sponsored by:

HOME BUILDERS ASSOCIATION OF KENTUCKY (HBAK)

ENTRY RULES AND GUIDELINES

- The awards contest is open to all builder, remodeler and associate members in good standing of the Home Builders Association of Kentucky
- You may enter more than one project in one or more categories. However, each project must be registered as a separate entry.
- Each builder/remodeler submitting an entry must agree to allow the details and pictures on each entry to be used in presentations, publications, or in any way necessary to promote the “Kentucky Design and Remodeling Awards” and the Home Builders Association of Kentucky.
- Each builder submitting an entry must secure the written permission of the project’s owner (homeowner).
- All entry documents including photos shall become the property of the Home Builders Association of Kentucky and shall not be returned unless specifically requested.
- The deadline for registration is August 2, 2016. To register simply go to hbak.com and you will then be guided through the registration process.
